“Hear, O Israel! The Lord is our God, the Lord alone. You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might. Take to heart these instructions with which I charge you this day. Impress them upon your children. Recite them when you stay at home and when you are away, when you lie down and when you get up.”

- Deuteronomy (Devarim) 6:4-7

“At Sinai Moses received the Torah and handed it over to Joshua who handed it over to the elders who handed it over to the prophets who in turn handed it over to the men of the Great Assembly. The latter said three things: Be deliberate in judgment, raise up many disciples, and make a fence around the Torah.”

- Pirkei Avot 1:1

Hillel said,

“Don’t separate yourself from the community.

Don’t be overconfident until the day of your death.

Don’t judge your fellow human being until you have reached that person’s place.

Don’t say anything that is unintelligible with the hope that it will be understood.

And don’t say, ‘When I have leisure I will study’ – perhaps you will never have that leisure.”

- Pirkei Avot 2:4

“All of Israel is bound up together.”

- Babylonian Talmud, Shevuot 39a

“One day, [Honi] was walking along the road, and he saw a man planting a carob tree. He asked him, ‘How long does it take [for this tree] to bear fruit?’ The man replied, ‘Seventy years.’ He asked him further, ‘Are you certain you will live another seventy years?’ The man replied, ‘I found the world provided with carob trees because my forefathers planted them for me. I am planting them now for my children.’ “

- Babylonian Talmud, Taanit 23a

“When two people relate to each other authentically and humanly, God is the electricity that surges between them.”

- Martin Buber
