

Describe this scene.

What Jewish values do you see reflected in this photo?

The photographer calls this picture Waiting for Seven Jews. How does that add to your understanding of the photograph?

“Nine tzaddikim [righteous individuals] cannot make a minyan, but if one common man joins them, he completes the minyan.” --Rabbi Nahman of Bratslav

What does this say about nature of a Jewish community?

How does this photograph relate to your community?

Hillel said: “Don’t separate yourself from the community.” - Pirkei Avot, 2:4

What do you think it means to separate oneself from the community?

What do you receive from your community?